ART RESTORATION EXPERIENCE: MERLINI STORTI'S STUDIO

VISIT ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT RESTORATION STUDIOS IN ROME, A UNIQUE AND UNFORGETTABLE EXPERIENCE.

Valeria Merlini and Daniela Storti, among the leading Italian experts in restoration and conservation, who have restored numerous masterpieces including three paintings by Caravaggio, offer visitors the chance to understand the importance of the artisanal aspect of an artist's creative work in a journey that will enrich people's relationship with art.

Restauro Experience

The visit in the Merlini Storti restoration studio gives guests the opportunity see from up close classical and contemporary artworks and experience them through the delicate process of conservation. In their atelier, guests will experience art in a direct and intimate way, being able to observe from up close the restorers' work and learning about the fascinating world of art techniques and materials.

Uncovering Caravaggio

The experience will start with an exclusive visit at the Odescalchi Palace inside Princess Odescalchi's house where she keeps the "Conversion of Saul" by Caravaggio, restored by the studio in 2006, a painting that is part of her private collection. Here guests will be able to observe the painting and talk to the restorers about the restoration process that the painting required.

Restoration: a Focus on Caravaggio

The visit starts inside the Sant'Agostino Church in Rome where guests will be able to see the painting "Pilgrim's Madonna" that was restored by the studio in 2000. The guests, accompanied by the restorers and the studio coordinator, will be able to learn about the painting and the process of its restoration from them and to ask questions to the restorers themselves about the conservation process.

OLIVE OIL TASTINGS

Welcome to the heart of an ancient Franciscan convent dating back to 1200. We are pleased to share the extraordinary history of this place, full of anecdotes that have shaped its evolution over the centuries.

In this unique historical and cultural context, you will have the opportunity to immerse yourself in art and unspoilt nature, walking through a charming and small village.

In this wonderful land is produced with passion and dedication extra virgin olive oil, following strict principles of organic farming. During the visit, the peculiar characteristics of the plants, olives and oil extracted from them will be illustrated.

You will have the opportunity to visit the ruins of the ancient city of Trebula with its amphitheater, the cisterns, which were once used to accumulate rainwater, and the sanctuary dedicated to Santa Vittoria, dating back to the third century and rebuilt in the eleventh in Romanesque style.

You will also be able to admire an authentic olive oil mill and the tools used by the friars centuries ago for the production of this precious olive oil.

Surrounding of Rome

TIVOLI HADRIAN'S VILLA & VILLA D'ESTE

Swap the hustle and bustle of Rome for a serene half-day excursion in Tivoli, the picturesque countryside town and home to Hadrian's Villa and Villa d'Este, both of which are UNESCO World Heritage Sites and masterpieces of opulence and delight. The first of these 'get away' villas dates to the Second century and the second to the Sixteenth century. Adrian was the most widely travelled emperor as well as an amateur architect, and his Villa is full of innovative designs based on iconic places he visited throughout the Roman Empire. Villa d'Este, on the other hand, was built by Cardinal Ippolito d'Este to console himself after a failed bid for the papacy.

ANCIENT OSTIA ROME'S POMPEII

Some could argue taking the time to visit the ancient seaport of Ostia Antica affords a better glimpse of Ancient Rome than even the Forum! Leave the city and head towards the sea with our driver and guide to explore Rome's version of Pompeii - Ostia Antica. Originally the city's storehouse and a lively port town that welcomed ships and their exotic cargos from across the empire, it was buried beneath sediment for over 1500 years and today offers one of the best glimpses of what Rome was like during her 'Golden Age.

SURROUNDING OF ROME

EXCLUSIVE VISIT OF POPE'S SUMMER RESIDENCE AND GARDENS AFTER HOURS

A unique experience to visit the papal residence in complete privacy from a unique historical perspective, experiencing the surreal atmosphere within the ancient structures inside which signs of past eras are still visible. A fascinating mix of ancient and contemporary history, incredible architecture that bases its origins on the foundations of the ancient Roman Empire, to come down to us crossing the world wars and rising again at the hands of the Pontif's.

Let yourself be enveloped by the mystery of the Cryptoporticus of Domitian, the charm and color of the gardens, the terraces of the palaces, the surreal sunset between mountains, lake and sea. The gardens make up the Park of the Papal residence; within the splendid and well-kept green area is the Vatican Specola, the Astronomical Observatory, and there are located the remains of the Villa of the Roman Emperor Domitian, of which a large cryptoporticus, the remains of a theater and several exedras, as well as some road sections covered with the original paving stones have been preserved.
